

SAFETY AND RELIABILITY SOCIETY LONDON BRANCH

The London Branch are pleased to announce the first event of the 2016/2017 Branch calendar.

"Goal Structuring Notation"

17th May 2017

James Catmur – JCA Associates

George Cleland – Adelard

followed by a Q&A with the speakers

When making an argument for safety it helps if it can be understood quickly by readers, so that a compelling argument is made. Once the reader understands (and hopefully agrees with) the structure of the argument it is then possible for the evidence that supports each point to be presented and assessed. Doing this in a graphical, structured and logical manner using GSN makes it far easier. We will hear about GSN, the process used and tools that support it, and some examples of GSN's application in various sectors.

The meeting will begin at 1730, for a 1800 start and will finish 1930.

The London Branch AGM will be held 1730-1800.

Meetings are open to all, you do not need to be a member of SaRS to attend.
